

THREE HENRY'S

2020 Rosé

The Estate:

Located in Languedoc in the rolling hills below the Montagne Noir, the vineyard enjoys a sunny Mediterranean climate but without the excessive heat of the Seaside. The proximity to the Montagne Noir guarantees cool nights to counter the hot, sunny summer days.

The property is not organic but natural, and responsible farming is actively practiced. Clippings become mulch. There are multiple bee colonies on the estate. And a great variety of vegetation is present under the old olive, cypress and Mediterranean pines.

Tasting Notes:

With the color of pink roses and a tint of bronze, the wine has aromas of ripe plum and summer stone fruits on the nose. The palate consists of red berries, watermelon and nectarines, while beautiful minerality lingers slightly on the finish.

Producer Notes:

Soil type: limestone, clay, some schist

Vines average 8-10 years in age and are planted at 250-400 feet above sea level. After direct pressing, skin contact is allowed for approximately five hours, with fermentation in stainless steel tanks.
